

"IF YOU WANNA BE MY EQUAL"

GENDER EQUALITY DUTY PERFORMANCE

An entertaining and engaging show to launch your Gender Equality Duty policy with a real celebration!

"What Chain Reaction did in ten minutes is more than I could have done in a whole hour's presentation. In terms of getting the message of gender equality across and engaging the audience, it was perfect!"

Jane Brown, Diversity Manager, London Borough of Waltham Forest

"If You Wanna Be My Equal" is designed to make the audience sit up and listen – all too often new initiatives can fall on deaf ears when they are introduced in a traditional lecture/presentation format - this unique show lightens the subject, by making audiences laugh, think and understand.

Using popular culture references and songs including "Deal or No Deal", "EastEnders", "Wannabee" (by the Spice Girls) and "You're The One That I Want" (from the Grease soundtrack), the show entertains, engages and most of all illustrates the problems of gender inequality to the audience, allowing the perfect springboard for a more formal introduction to the legislation.

For more information or to book
this unique piece of theatre, call 020 8543 0007, email us at:
admin@chainreactiontheatre.co.uk or check out our new website at:
www.chainreactiontheatre.co.uk

chain reaction theatre company

new writing
new audiences
new partnerships

*'DOT COTTON & PATRICK TRUMAN
DISCUSS GENDER EQUALITY'*